June 1 Deadline For Dump

Andover must vacate the Chandler Road sanitary landfill site by June 1, according to the latest order from the state health authorities.

Local officials intend to appeal the decision received Tuesday by the town manager, selectmen, department of public works and board of health.

The order followed a hearing held by the state in Andover in January, at which time the assignment of the present area as a dump site was rescinded, pending a hearing.

The action Tuesday follows in line with an order issued over a year ago, at which time the state ordered the dump to be made ready for closing by last summer and officially closed by last October.

Local officials sought, and received time, as town meeting action on a new dump site was pending. Acquisition of a new site has been rejected three times by the voters.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin said Wednesday that he and Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade, are studying the latest order with Town Counsel Alfred L. Daniels and expect to make a report to the selectmen at their meeting Monday night.

The order issued by Richard M. Power, who conducted the January hearing, listed the arguments by the town for keep-

In Search Of A Clown

The Andona Society would be appreciative for the return of a clown to the police box in Elm Square.

The clown, made of wood, and done by students at the Vocational School three years ago, disappeared under rather mysterious circumstances last Saturday.

The clown face has been used annually to advertise the annual Clown Town event, conducted by Andona to raise funds for their civic work, principally for youth.

Last Saturday, witnesses viewed adults, or young adults walk off with the sign, everyone generally agreed it was someone responsible.

But, none of the Andona people removed the clown face, nor did they authorize such removal.

So, if, whoever took the clown face and its message, can return it in like manner, Andona society officials will be quite grateful.

Assessor Advises Check On Excise Tax Bills

The first motor vehicle excise tax bills have been received by the Assessors Office from the Registry of Motor Vehicles Department, through the Department of Corporations and Taxation.

In this first commitment of excise bills for 1973 the office has found (and removed from the mailing) bills for cars that were sold as far back as 1971. Although the first billing for 1973 (blue in color and with the year 1973 printed in the upper right corner) has arrived, there are still 200 to 300 more bills to come through for the year 1972 (green in color with 1972 printed in the upper right corner.)

For the past year every bill had to be checked for errors, such as, cancellation of plates in the previous year, or transfer of plates from one car to another in the previous year. In one commitment alone last year, of the 2,700 bills issued there were 500 bills which were in error.

The first new 1973 bills are ready to be mailed this week, and although they have been checked by the local office, Assessor William Russell would recommend that the taxpayer check his bill to be sure it is for the car that was registered on January 1 of 1973, and also that the registration number is the correct one and not one that had expired. If you should find an error on the

Honors Accorded Seniors

Andover High School has released the names of its senior honor students, as graduation approaches.

Andover High honors the top ten per cent of its graduating seniors as a group, instead of singling out individual students as valedictorian or salutatorian in graduation ceremonies. There will be student speakers at the graduation, from among this group, and their names will be announced next week.

Figures Indicate $4 Tax Rate Hike

Local taxpayers had best take another notch in the belt and prepare for a tax increase of probably $4.

While local officials are not prepared to officially set the 1974 tax rate as yet, all indications point to unofficial estimates made following completion of the annual town meeting that $54 would be the tax rate seem to be holding up.

Receipt of the cherry sheets last Thursday, the annual listing of estimated receipts the town can expect from state sources, pretty nearly met the estimates used for guidelines prior to the town meeting.

The tax rate probably will not be officially set before next week.

Assessor William H. Russell and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin are continuing their compilation of figures prior to submitting the rate to the state department of corporations and taxation for approval.

The cherry sheet figures received by the town this past week shows the town receiving $2,417,674.63 through the 18 month fiscal cycle. This compares with the $1,871,216.13 received a year ago for a 12 month period.

The town began an 18-month budget this year to conform to state and federal fiscal years, thus the necessity for local officials to analyze the estimated receipts in the new perspective.

Assessor William H. Russell explains that some of the figures are listed for an 18 month period, while other disbursements anticipated from the state are for only a 12 month period.

The assessing department is currently awaiting completion of data processing work on the files, to firmly establish the town's valuation, along with its commitments before establishing the new rate.

It is estimated that the town valuation increased by approximately $5,000,000 in 1972, which will be reflected in the 1973 tax picture.

The town's valuation is currently set at $211,000,000, a figure which will vary until firmly established with the completion of the data processing.

Town Manager Austin noted after town meeting completion that the voters had exceeded the recommendations somewhat which would have an additional effect on the tax rate.

Prior to town meeting, estimates had been a $3 increase.

With the additional costs, it is felt the $4 figure may be reached.

A new and unusual item appeared on the cherry sheet this year for the first time, that of anticipated revenue from the beano tax. Andover will be entitled to $321.32 during the next 18 months from this account.

The state lottery, which netted the town $55,716.47 in 1972, is expected to produce $73,443.77, over the 18-month period, according to the figures.

Such "windfalls," however, will not assist Andover taxpayers who appear destined to assume a $54 tax rate within the next week or so.

Jewish Congregation Ponders Andover Plans

Should the Jewish Community Center of Greater Lawrence move to Andover?

Should the Center's board try to buy the Unitarian-Universalist Church on Lowell Street from the congregation, and turn this striking edifice into its own educational, cultural and recreational center? Or should the Jewish Community Center build from scratch on a nearby Lowell Street plot which their architect also has been assessing? Or none of these?

A questionnaire which the Center's board sent out early this week asks area Jewish families these questions, and queries them on their family moving intentions and other issues. The questionnaire generally attempts to probe the seriousness -- i.e. the potential financial support -- of the generally acknowledged area Jewish sentiment for moving the Center from its present Lawrence location to Andover, probably to Lowell Street.

The possibility of a purchase offer for the Andover church edifice, of course has profound implications for the Unitarian-Universalist Church, as well as the Jewish Community Center.

In a curious historical twist, the Unitarian-Universalist Church itself moved from Lawrence to Andover only ten years ago, following its congregation to the suburb. Will Unitarians now be selling their edifice to another group doing the same thing, and thereby propel their own Unitarian-Universalist religious community into an entirely new phase in Andover?

It is by no means certain that a purchase offer will be made or what the answer would be.

The Jewish Community Center put out its first feelers to the Unitarian-Universalists last fall, and an architect recently has been assessing the possibilities of adding an addition (for kitchen, gym, recreational facilities) to the Unitarian-Universalist building - to convert it for the educational, recreational and cultural functions through which the Community Center serves Greater Lawrence Jews.

The architect also has estimated cost of building a Jewish Community Center from scratch

To Explain Plight of D.C. Residents

The League of Women Voters will act this week to inform citizens of this area of the plight of the residents of the District of Columbia. If you live in Washington D.C. you are denied the right of congressional representation and the right to an elected local government. This means that the voteless District of Columbia citizen has no place to go and no elected representative to vote for his interests. Since 1961 and the ratification of the 23rd amendment, D.C. residents have been able to vote for the President of the United States. In between presidential elections they can vote for members of the school board and a non-voting delegate but no one else. Congress passes the local laws and ordinances which govern Washington. It determines on the tax rates and fixes the city's annual budget. All of these important matters are handled without one voting representative of the people affected. This action by the League is part of a nationwide campaign by more than 50 organizations to secure voting representation in Congress and local self-government for the citizens of the nation's capital.

Members of the Andover League will be distributing flyers in front of supermarkets and asking for signatures on an informal petition. There will also be a display and flyers available at Memorial Hall Library.

Camping, Recreation Show Set

Plans have been finalized for an Outdoor Camping and Recreation Show to be held on the upper level of the Municipal Parking Garage and the block on Common Street between Hampshire and Amesbury Street, Lawrence, on June 7, 8 and 9. This three day event is a cooperative project of the Lawrence Recreation Department and Lawrence Intown.

All outdoor camping and recreation suppliers have been contacted by mail to participate and called on personally by a team of the Lawrence Recreation Department. Anyone not contacted can participate simply by calling Joseph Parolisi or David Howshan of Madeleine Abati.

Lawrence Intown members have contributed numerous prizes for the daily drawings. This show is attracting a great deal of attention even at this early date. Coupons will be available to customers in Lawrence Intown stores to be deposited at the Outdoor Show on Thursday, Friday and Saturday that first week in June for the drawings. Announcements will be made when the coupons will be available.

Congregation

on a nearby Lowell Street site. There is strong Jewish sentiment for a building planned expressly for their purposes. But does the sentiment for moving the Center to Andover run wide and deep enough to be translated into financial support for a new building, presumably more expensive in the short run?

The Jewish Community Center board hopes the questionnaire will help them decide this.

In other Jewish quarters, there is admiration for the Unitarian edifice, which that congregation feels it built as an aesthetic statement, for the Andover community, as well as for worship. It is already a familiar place to some Jewish families as the home of the Jewish Community School's Nursery School for the past three years. During the winter, there was even some speculation among Jewish people discussing the issue on the possibility of sharing the church, plus an addition, with the Unitarian - Universalists.

An Andover Jewish woman noted that the move of the Jewish Center to Andover was not so much a flight to the suburb as bringing one Jewish facility to Andover, which has none, though Andover has a substantial Jewish community. Lawrence, she pointed out, has the two synagogues, one Conservative and one Orthodox. Some of the action is already in Andover, since the Jewish Community Center's Nursery School operates in the church being considered for purchase, and the Hebrew School is run in the Andover School of Business.

Rev. Richard Woodman, minister of the Unitarian - Universalist Church, acknowledges that the Jewish Community Center approached his church last fall, and discussions between committees of the two groups has continued throughout the winter, as to possibilities of mutual agreement.

"I don't know whether they are going to make a purchase offer," said Woodman, "and I don't know what our congregation would decide if they did. We feel a serious request from them demanded a serious response, and opened up possibilities for a change in our own church, and new ways of serving our congregation. But it's all up in the air now - the ball is in their court - and there is no use speculating."

Dump

ing the Chandler Road site open, as well as the statements and findings supporting the closing of the facility.

Prime objection is the location of the dump within the watershed area which feeds Haggetts Pond, the town's main water supply.

The findings of the state authorities, listed in the order issued this week notes that two streams and a pond which originally existed on the site prior to its use as a dump, have been filled with refuse.

Water containing chemicals dissolved from refuse flows out of the dump area.

Drains installed to intercept ground water could be only partially effective due to ledge in the area.

Corrective work in dealing with surface and surface drainage would only be partially effective, the state officials stated.

Lastly, the order, signed by Power, reads, "The Chandler Road facility is being operated and maintained in a manner which results in a nuisance and a danger to public health."

The tentative decision again rescinds use of the site as a sanitary landfill facility with the town ordered to cease operations there on or before June 1.

Local officials have until May 20 to file objections and supporting argument on the decision.

It is expected that the state authorities will now be advised of the town's intent to initiate a municipal refuse collection service, with the material to be deposited out of town.

Bids have been called for the service and are to be opened in the office of the town manager next Thursday.

The action follows the annual town meeting vote, which, for the third time rejected acquisition of a former gravel pit off Woburn street as a new sanitary disposal site.

The town has been working on the problem since the initial citing of the town for violations by the state in January of 1972.

Engineering studies and recommendations of a new site were submitted to three town meetings and rejected.

Majority votes were received on all three occasions, but failure to obtain a two-thirds majority approval defeated the proposals.

Continued use of the Chandler road area by the town, could lead to court action, which has been threatened in prior state orders. Fines can be imposed on the town, should the court uphold the state.

It is expected that the town will seek continued use of the Chandler road area for the disposal of such items as limbs and brush, if and when the area is officially closed.

bill, bring it into the Assessors Office and it will be corrected.

We have been told by the Department of Corporations and Taxation that this situation will exist for at least another year, and that the Assessors will just have to live with it until the problem is corrected.

A special group of the legislature was appointed to study the situation and make recommendations - which they did just last year. Their recommendations were that the actual printing and calculating of the bills be turned over to the Department of Corporations and Taxation which is now, hopefully, in the process, but will not be fully implemented until sometime in 1974.

The deadline for filing for an abatement because of transfer in 1972 on 1972 bills is June 30, 1973, except in the case of bills mailed after April 30, 1973, or in the case of a duplicate or incorrect billing. The governor signed a bill, just last week, extending the deadline for filing for an abatement on the 1972 excise tax bills (apparently aware of the serious problems in excise billing) but the Board of Assessors have not to date received any notification of the length of time of this extension, but will publish the extension period in this paper as soon as it can be determined.

Prior to the Registry of Motor Vehicles Department taking over the issuance of excise tax bills on a computerized system, each town received a copy of the registration and typed the bills on their own, which was a tedious job to say the least. Computerized billing, if properly programmed, is the most efficient and economical process, but it has not worked efficiently in the case of motor vehicle excise tax billing.

The Board of Assessors are assured that when the Department of Corporations and Taxation takes over the computerized implementation of excise taxes that the program will be properly established to eliminate those vehicles which have been sold or transferred so that this present situation of duplications will not continue.

Showers may bring flowers, but they also bring "wet wire" troubles for motorists, according to the American Automobile Association.

"Starting problems are nearly as frequent in rainy and damp weather as during a wintertime cold spell," said Thomas M. O'Neil, Manager of the Emergency Road Service Department of the Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley.

On a wet day the volume of calls for AAA emergency road service increases ten to 20 times.

Kay Colleen France, 5 Penobscot Way, Andover, will be inducted into the Miami of Ohio University Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi national honor society at ceremonies on May 15.

Well, it looks as though the marriage intentions of Abbot and Phillips Academies will be con-

The 'Banns' Are Announced

summated, after a lengthy, sometimes up-and-down, courtship.

The banns have just been published in two daily newspapers, for the third time. Look for a simple wedding, June 29.

Adolescent Longings

Many moons ago - over two years ago, in fact, the TOWNSMAN noted that the atmosphere had become somewhat electric between the famous boy and girl academics. They evidently had finally reached that age where they looked at each other with new eyes. The TOWNSMAN suggested in a feature article that overtures were being made by the male academy, and we conjectured whether this would ripen into engagement and marriage, or revert to the somewhat frustrating platonic relationship.

The courtship went along well, at first, with visiting back and forth between Phillips and Abbot (coordinated classes) smiled upon by the couple's elders. (the trustees).

Family Blessing Refused

But the family authorities of the male suitor began blowing hot and cold on the affair, saying and even publicly announcing that while they liked the idea of merging in principle, they didn't see marriage with Abbot in the foreseeable future. The bald truth of it was that the bride's dowry wasn't large enough that the young couple could live in the manner to which the young man had been accustomed. (This may sound feudal; it really signifies the Phillips trustees' refusal to enter into a merger which would have meant a considerable rise in Phillips' Academy's relatively low tuition, on account of Abbot's much smaller number of endowment dollars per pupil. The words 'dowry' and 'endowment' have the same root).

The Abbot-Phillips courtship seemed stymied. The male academy thought of finding satisfaction with other women, but hated to turn its back on the girl next door.

A Proposal

At this point, enter a new broker for the suitor in the person of Phillips' newly appointed headmaster, Theodore Sizer. The new broker said that two could live as cheaply as one, if they followed his plan. He made a proposal that instead of merging their assets, the prospective bride should simply hand all her savings and belongings over to the bridegroom. If she would just trust him, everything would turn out all right.

They'd have to pinch the first few years, Sizer said, but that would be ok as they were a little hefty anyway. He has a five-year reducing plan that would whittle the couple down to a better, more affordable size. After pulling in their belt, they'd be able to manage nicely on their combined income after the first expensive few years of setting up housekeeping together.

The idea was appealing; Abbot Headmaster Don Gordon liked it and a mutual relative of the two (Philip Allen, 1 Highland Road, trustee of both Phillips and Abbot, where he is trustee chairman) was a persuasive mediator.

The Phillips family had made an offer that the Abbot family could not refuse.

Besides, all the world loves a lover. Such a nice pair could expect generous gifts from friends and relatives, if they went about it in the right way, and showed they were a combination worthy of support. Phillips had a major birthday coming up soon - a 200th - they could hope for a good settlement to really set them on their feet.

So last September, after lengthy family councils in an Old World manner, the two made it known that their intentions were serious. (The trustees of Abbot and Phillips' approved the intention that Abbot would entrust Abbot's assets and her charter to Phillips Academy).

Engagement

The TOWNSMAN was present and took pictures at the formal engagement party, which was not until Feb. 17, at Phelps House on the Phillips campus. All sorts of relatives were there. It was very gay. Champagne was served and toasts were drunk, just as at any engagement party. Papers were also signed by the couple's elders. Abbot and Phillips had formally pledged their troth.

Publishing Banns

But in such a prestigious family affair, no steps are left out. For the past three weeks, keen observers of the legal sections of the Lawrence and a good grey New York daily paper will have noticed the publications of the banns of Phillips and Abbot's marriage - just a small legal abstract of a petition.

Robert Zollner, of Warner Stackpole lawyers to the bride-to-be, caused the banns to be published in Essex County on April 19, 26 and May 3.

If anyone has reason why Abbot and Phillips should not be joined in lawful coeducation, led her (or him) speak out at the hearing soon to be held by the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth, or forever hold her (or his) peace!

Consummation

Once the male and the female academy have jumped this hurdle together, they are almost home. The Supreme Judicial Court will issue a decree some time in June saying that yes, the combination of the two academies, effecting the transfer of Abbot's assets and liabilities and charter trust and the dissolving of Abbot Academy can be consummated, to use the term in the legal petition abstract.

And that's why Abbot will take Phillips Academy's name, and they will be lawfully joined on the legal closing day, June 29 - their actual wedding day. There have been so many announcements and ceremonies already that this one is likely to be a simple civil ceremony, a mere passing of papers.

Only the immediate families will be present as Abbot will bring and hand over to Phillips Academy, what her trustees earnestly consider to be not only their assets but their sacred trust of educating girls.

And on July 1, a new Phillips Academy for both boys and girls will exist.

Babe Ruth Club Is Formed

By Rick Harrison

The 1973 Andover Babe Ruth baseball team was formulated recently, and the club has started practice sessions in preparation for its opening game June 4 against regular-season defending champ North Andover.

Over 30 boys participated in the four tryout sessions late in April, and half that number were selected for the 15-player squad.

Returning for their third year on the team are Glenn Verrette and Steve Galvin.

Back for a second season are Thom Lawler, John Lyons and Joe Grillo.

New players this year are Jeff Hubbell, John Fabiani, Mike McCormick, Mark LaLonde, Pete Aumais, Tom Coffey, Mike Henderson, Bob Zwicker, Gary Needham and Jim Lee.

Andover will play a 21-game schedule during the months of June and July in the Greater-Lawrence Babe Ruth League. The competition will be provided by North Andover, Methuen, defending playoff champ Tower Hill, South Lawrence East, Prospect Hill, North Lawrence and South Lawrence West.

The Greater-Lawrence Ruth All-Stars will also compete in the annual State Tournament in July, and three Andover players are expected to be members of that squad.

Last year's All-Star team went to the State finals at Leominster after winning District and Area championships.

All home games for the Andover team, which is coached by Joe Grillo and Rick Harrison, will be played at the large Playstead Field behind the East Junior High.

Last season Andover finished third with a 13-8 record, and the local entry has been among the top four teams in the majority of the league's 20 years of existence.

There is no admission charge for any of the Babe Ruth games, and all contests will start at 6 p.m.

Following is the 1973 schedule for both home and road games: June 4 - Andover at No. Andover, (Grogan's)

June 5 - Prospect Hill at Andover

June 7 - Methuen at Andover

June 11 - Andover at No. Lawrence, (Hayden-Schofield)

June 12 - Andover at So. Law. East, (Stadium)

June 20 - Andover at Prospect Hill, (O'Connell)

June 21 - No. Andover at Andover

June 26 - Andover at Methuen, (Pelham St.)

Khalabar is one of the soundest, most sensible carpet investments you can make.

What Khalabar looks like is sinfully extravagant. That's getting the best of both worlds.

It isn't slap-dashed together by machine. It's made by hand in India. Using only long, 2-ply woolen yarns (moth-proofed, of course). And true-color dyes.

We put a lot into Khalabar. Which is why you get a lot out of it.

Program Awaits Funding

Andover parents and teachers involved in the school system's federally funded Deer jump summer camping program have been appealing to their senators and to Congressman Paul Cronin to support federal funding of Title I programs so that Deer jump IV can go on this summer.

Local parents say the program has had a significant effect on their children, which carries over to the academic year, and hope Deer jump IV, which is planned and staffed for this summer, will get federal funds to go. The three-year old Title I project serves Andover children with social, financial, emotional, academic and other special needs.

The offices of Senators Edward Brooke and Edward Kennedy and Cong. Cronin confirmed to the Townsman that all have received letters from Andover asking their support of Title I appropriations, under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, along with many letters from other constituencies, equally concerned about Title programs in their communities.

Federal authorization of the Elementary and Secondary Educational Act under which Title programs fall, is already approved by Congress, but the appropriation has not yet been voted. The Federal Administration wants to switch some Title programs to revenue sharing, but local school officials point out that there is yet no known distribution plan or time table for revenue sharing. Until and unless Title I programs are funded, Deer jump IV is in limbo, although plans and staffing are ready to go.

Sen. Brooke indicated his interest in Deer jump IV to the Commonwealth Department of Education, and received assurances that the summer camping program for children with special needs fully meets its funding requirements. But the state department cannot extend formal approval until they receive a letter of credit from Health Education and Welfare indicating the money is available.

What is Deer jump? Its founder and director, Andover guidance counselor Frank Bianco, says the three year old program is a unique one in public education. Its purpose is to use summer camping and recreational activity to provide a bridge across cultural and behavioral deficiencies, to raise children's self-confidence and their faith in their own power to achieve.

Bianco reports that the recreational aspects have a twofold purpose - deliberate modification of children's behavior, and, in addition, they are structured to improve relevant life skills in activities children enjoy - swimming, camp craft, nature and science, sports and physical education.

Bianco says twice as many children each year are recommended because of special needs as the program can accept. He could fill the 120 places solely with Andover children receiving ADC (Aid Dependent Children) but the program also includes children with other areas of needs.

Mrs. Janet Smith, 3 Memorial Circle, says her 13 year old child benefited so much in self-confidence as well as competence that she now wishes to return to Deer jump as a volunteer counselor's aide. "Self-confidence is the main thing they get, from succeeding in the program, and from seeing teachers as real people, not just authorities standing over them in school, especially if they don't do as well in school as some others. I can definitely see an impact on my children's regular school year from the Deer jump summer program."

Mrs. Nancy Bardsley, 5 Memorial Circle, thinks it important that children learn to follow directions with confidence, and learn not to be afraid of trying something new. "Having the teachers in an informal setting, in activities they like, is important, I think. If it's setting up a tent, or making something, the first thing they may think is 'I can't do it,' but the teacher says, 'Just try!' And they find they can do it, and learn not to be afraid of making mistakes. Mistakes can be corrected, and good can come from mistakes."

Both women, who have large families, agree that learning to cope with problems and get along with people is an important part of the Deer jump experience.

'Tyll' On Stage Saturday

This coming Saturday, May 12, will see the production of "The Merry Pranks of Tyll" by the Andover Community Theatre. It will be presented at East Junior High at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Tickets are available at Resnick's, The Corner Cupboard, Andover Lanes, Andover Spa, Thompson's and Cole Paint and Hardware. Tickets will of course also be available at the door. The final week before a play is always busy, with a set to construct, cues to work out, and a deadline to meet. On last Saturday and Sunday, the ACT group moved its prefabricated set to East Junior High, and has since been working on the school stage. Auxiliary lighting and sound equipment has been set up also. Of course, "The Merry Pranks of Tyll" is no better than Tyll himself. Tyll is being played by an accomplished young man named Steve Sapuppo. Steve brings acrobatic ability to the role of Tyll as well as dramatic talent. As you will see, he is equally at home with cooks and kitchenmaids, kings and queens, or sick people and wise men. Steve's talent and humor has enlivened many a rehearsal and the Andover Community Theatre knows you will enjoy seeing him in "The Merry Pranks of Tyll". ACT would like to thank the Andover Recreation and Community School Department, headed by Gary Ralph for all their help and cooperation for this production.

River Races Saturday

The third Annual River Race Day will be underway Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Horn Bridge on Central Street in Andover, beginning with the Novice Race.

The Andover Village Improvement Society invites you to bring the whole family and a picnic lunch to enjoy this annual outing, which is full of competition and laughs, on the meadow beside the river.

The races are open to all classes of canoe and kayak. The one requirement is that participants wear life preservers. Registration should be made within 45 minutes of each race time. The intermediate race begins at 11 a.m. and the advanced at 12:30 p.m.

The selectman's Trophy will be one of many gifts awarded at the conclusion of the last race. The races will be held, rain or shine.

Western Roundup Scheduled

On Thursday evening, May 24, 1973, the Student Government of the Andover West Junior High School will sponsor its fifth annual Western Bar-B-Que and Educational Round-Up in conjunction with the school's annual Open House program. This year the program theme will be "A Salute to Musical Comedy." The Student Council officers have once again arranged to have their famous Barbequed Chicken Dinner served in the courtyard of the school.

Plans call for the dinner to be served continuously from 5 - 7:30 p.m. with two lines being set up to speed serving. Last year over 1000 persons were fed during the evening. Student committees are being formed to develop the theme in a Western motif to provide the proper atmosphere to enhance the open-pit barbequing. Reservations are now being accepted.

The Educational Round-Up will feature various samples of student work displayed throughout the school building. Guests are invited to tour the building before or after dinner to see first-hand the achievements of the students.

For Mother's Day.

New Opportunities To Be Offered This Summer

By GARY C. RALPH

I've read that in the advertising business, if you want to sell something, the best way is to label your product "new," "different" or "improved." It occurs to me, after re-reading some of the columns I've written lately, that I've used these very words a number of times. Well, I don't want to give the impression I'm trying to sell the townspeople of Andover something. I like to think we are offering opportunities.

I think, perhaps, the best way to deal with the possibility that what we are saying about this Summer's program will not reach ears enured to claims of "new," "different" and "improved," is to give concrete examples of just what is "new," what is different and how we feel the program has been improved.

For the first time the Andover Summer School will be a cooperative effort between the School Dept. and the Recreation/Community School Dept. The school Department will continue to be responsible for remedial classes and our department will be in charge of enrichment and interest classes and activities. The playground program will be coordinated with the Summer School in order to offer these enrichment and interest opportunities to the maximum number of youngsters.

In addition, the Recreation/Community Schools Dept. has embarked on a cooperative effort with Memorial Hall Library to offer a variety of projects and activities utilizing the library's considerable resources.

This cooperative effort between Recreation/Community Schools, school department and library is designed to bring a multiplicity of opportunities to Andover's children.

We plan to offer a number of programs and activities and classes this Summer that are designed to present subjects in a depth that has not been attempted in a Summer Playground Program before. I'd like to tell you about three of them.

We have hired staff members to teach Campercraft to the youngsters, based on Outward Bound. Each playground will establish a campsite. In addition such skills as transferring from tree to tree with a rope, climbing and backpacking will be practiced under competent supervision. A by-product, we hope will be development of self reliance and team effort among the youngsters who participate.

Our Arts and Crafts Dept. will have a three pronged leadership. We have hired Anita Raymond, a veteran of Montessori training, Judy Iverson, an Arts and Crafts teacher and West Jr. High School and Carol Glines, a high school student who has been doing volunteer Arts and Crafts programming for a Special Education Girl Scout Troop to teach and administer this program. Along with instruction in the fine arts, there will be continuous long-range projects such as murals, set decoration to support the drama programs and multimedia integration projects. Individual projects will be encouraged in any discipline as well as the traditional crafts of pottery, woodworking, macrame and weaving.

We will have a Drama Dept. responsible for play production, puppets, shadow shows and mime. Debbie Gelman, a drama student at Northeastern graduate school will be working with staff from Memorial Hall Library to structure these projects.

Perhaps you have guessed one of the things we are trying to achieve this Summer. We are trying to provide creative outlets for the instruction offered. Learn then do. An attempt to give meaning to the new skills a youngster is learning.

I think what we have planned for this summer is new and different and improved.

I hope you agree.

St. Robert's School Activities

The St. Robert's Country Day School of West Andover nursery and kindergarten groups have been busy with many spring activities.

At Easter, a handsome egg tree was made with blown eggs which the children decorated.

On May 2, all the children went by bus to Logan airport for a field trip. Ray Nolin, father of one of the children, is a pilot for Eastern Airlines, and arranged for the trip which included a visit to a plane and an explanation of the functions. A picnic was enjoyed on the trip home.

Ecology week is being observed this week during which the children are being taught appreciation of the earth and environment. As part of the program the youngsters conducted a cleanup campaign of the school and church grounds.

June 6, graduation day, will be celebrated with a "hoedown."

Two short courses, one in gourmet cooking and one in specialty baking, will be conducted at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute. Classes will meet two mornings a week from 9 a.m. to 12 noon for five weeks beginning May 14.

Registration is limited, and those interested in enrolling should call Mrs. Evelyn Shapiro, Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute, Danvers.

Bishop Lawrence Confirms 27

Bishop Frederick C. Lawrence, D.D., of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts, confirmed twenty-seven persons in weekend ceremonies at Christ Church beginning last Friday. Twenty-four of those who were confirmed made written commitments to take part in secular community service projects over the next year in a special communion service on Friday evening, May 4th. This will include hospital, YMCA, Easter Seal, and other activities.

Miss Barbara M. Platt, director of education; Miss Virginia Montgomery; Mrs. Edward Stupack; and Robin Moseley, Church School teachers, assisted by The Rev. T. Edison Pike, Rector, met with the young people in the Confirmation Class throughout last year to prepare them for receiving the Rite and carry on their Christian commitments.

Bishop Lawrence visited the Church on Friday evening, May 4, for a picnic, followed by a Service of Holy Communion. Mrs. David Hepworth and Mrs. Robert Pfister, members of the Christian Education Committee, prepared the picnic supper.

A luncheon was held Saturday at noon to honor the confirmands, their parents, and sponsors. The luncheon committee chairman was Mrs. Kenneth Taylor.

On Sunday afternoon, Bishop Lawrence returned to Christ Church for the Confirmation Service. The confirmands were presented by Mr. Pike, Miss Platt, the Rev. Raymond Nelson, and the three teachers. St. Ann's Choir and the Christ Church Boys' Choir sang, under the leadership of Jon Wattenbarger, choirmaster and organist. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Taylor were in charge of the reception for the Bishop and the confirmands held afterwards in the Parish Hall.

Those confirmed were: Jerome Andrews III, David Barratt, Rachel Bowen, Anne Calder, Betsy Clifton, Stephen Efinger, Patricia Foner, Ellen

Gable, Karen Gonzales, Kimberly Gove, Karin Krivobok, Alan Kurth, Charles Lawton, Jr., Daphne Marsden, Patricia McKee, Sean McVey, Christopher Nelson, Kristin Nelso, Charles Redman, Judith Seal, Diane Suter, Sarah Tallman, Catherine Taylor, Christine Wallace, Andrew Wiseman, Barbara Wright. ### May Festival

Everyone likes to watch a skilled craftsman work at the loom, spin yarn, throw on the wheel, paint, perform intricate designs in stitchery, and we all respond to the music of the flute and the recorder. This week we are all fortunate to be living in the Andover area because we have craftspeople to watch on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday and a musician to listen to on Tuesday evening. On Monday, at 7:30 to 9 p.m. you can watch Barbara Bro weave while Barbara Itz spins. Then you can wander on and see the intricate stitches in Jane Dwyer's embroidery and the flawless crewel work of Phylis Consentino. Richard Fenton will also be present at the library doing some unusual floral design on bark. This marks the first night of the library Arts and Crafts Festival, to be followed through May 31, with more art for you.

Shakuhachi, or Japanese flutes, are made right here in Andover by Mathew Myszewski.
Mr. Myszewski will play his hand-crafted bamboo flutes for our pleasure on Tuesday, May 15, at 8 p.m. in the library. The melodious shakuhachi is an ancient instrument. Mr. Myszewski will relate his reason for giving up his former job to spend all his time making this interesting instrument; he will also play music on the recorder.

On Wednesday, May 16, from 7:30 to 9 another group of your neighbors will be doing "their own thing" at the library. The artists include James Carson, watercolorist, Julie Cole and Betty Moore, pastel experts,
Helen Collins Dooley and Jane Trumbore, artists in oils, and Phylis Consentino, who comes back to do ceramics this time.

Again on Thursday evening at the same time, you can find out how to paint those Easter eggs after all. Beth Myszewski will teach pysanki, the Polish technique of egg decoration.
Check up on your own crewel pottery and Marie Pitocheil will work on her famous stitchery.

These are all your own townspeople and friends. Give them a hand

Something New
A new service using microfiche is now on display and will soon be available for you at the library. The microfiche is used with a Microbook portable reader, small enough to hold in one's lap, with a 7" by 10" screen. The advantage of the microfiche, as everyone knows, is its compactness; a card size is 3x5 inches and its format allows for a maximum 1,000 pages arranged in 50 columns and 20 rows. Thus one set purchased by the library contains 189 titles in American literature and another set contains 109 titles in American Indians. The material added to the library collection in microfiche format is not to take the place of books, but to supplement them and provide added copies. If you would like to become acquainted with the new material, stop at the reference desk for more information. You may make a reserve for the use of the Microbook Portareader with the reference librarian. Additional material in this format will be added in the future.

Residents In Production

Students of Phillips Academy and Abbot Academy will present Cole Porter's musical comedy "Kiss Me, Kate" on the stage of George Washington Hall at P.A. on May 17, 18 and 19.

"Kiss Me Kate" is merry, melodious and sophisticated. The score is one of the greatest, with such superb songs as Another Op'nin' Another Show, Why Can't You Behave, Wunderbar, So In Love, We Open in Venice, Tom Dick or Harry, I Hate Men, Too Darn Hot, Always True to You and Brush Up Your Shakespeare.

The role of producer-actor Fred is played by P.A. senior Richard Romeo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Romeo. Cornelia Petty sings the role of Lilli, and Marcia McCabe plays Lois Lane. The role of Bill Calhoun is played by Thaddeus Gillespie.

Other cast members from the local area are Christopher Maietta and Paul, and George Redman as Hortensio. In the singing ensemble are Ellen Hoitsma, Elizabeth Kent, John McClement, Joseph Nicolosi, Mary-Jo O'Reilly, Anne Spader, Mary Washburn. In the dancing ensemble are David Briggs, Dianne DeLucia and Martha Pernokas.

P.A. English instructor, Frank Bellizia, will direct the production, while the Chairman of the Music Department, William B. Clift, Jr., will serve as music director. The technical director for the show is Hart Leavitt, another English instructor at P.A., and Miss Mary Kerner, assistant to the Director of Admissions at Abbot, will handle the choreography.

Reserved seats will be available for the Friday and Saturday performances. Tickets can be purchased at Graves Hall, the Music Building, just off School Street where it joins Main Street.

Tickets can also be purchased by writing to "Kiss Me Kate," Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. 01810. Checks should be made out to the Trustees of Phillips Academy.

The Tree Bank People

Perhaps to appreciate modern Tree Banks one must be a country boy who grew up on the tall grass prairie and knew trees as cottonwoods that grew largely along a river bank.

The Tree Bank, in case you've missed this modern trend, is a rescue operation which saves valuable trees and shrubs from the bulldozers of contractors and road builders. Landscape architects, television and radio announcers, newspaper editors and similar ordinary citizens operate Tree Banks in several eastern states.

Tree Bank people scout valuable tree stands that are endangered. They make arrangements with contractors to permit the public to dig valuable specimens' some weekend and take them home. Or, they arrange for volunteers or park department personnel to dig trees that otherwise would be cut and take them to a Tree Bank, which often is a park department nursery. Such trees usually later are planted along roadways or in parks.

Unfortunately, to have much of a future a tree today had better take on the shape and fiber that will fit a saw or pulp mill. Otherwise, despite its many other values, it becomes a "weed" tree not long for this world. And even though it has commercial value, it best not stand in the sight line of a surveyor of new highways.

Trees that like to have their feet wet certainly are in danger. For even if we should save a few swamps through forbidding drainage, we are unlikely to save them in fact unless we change our cultural outlook as well as industrial and technological practices. For swamps, particularly those not in headwaters, can be destroyed as effectively by pollution.

Clear-cutting practices in our forests clearly doom diversity. Foresters try to see to it that nothing except one species of commercial value dominates the forest regrowth. Such shortsighted policies invite invasion of the forest by every pest and fungi that preys on the single species. The forest is a banquet from one corner to the next.

So Tree Bankers make more sense than we once might have thought. The lovely, but commercially weed, trees that they save may become a virtual living museum of otherwise extirpated species.

Coffee Hour For FISH Volunteers

West Parish Church will host a coffee and information hour for all FISH of Andover volunteers Sunday, May 20 at 7 p.m. in the parish house. This will be an opportunity to enjoy meeting with fellow workers in FISH and to ask questions about the program. FISH is a volunteer program which provides temporary emergency help to Andover residents. Volunteers transport patients to medical appointments, do emergency babysitting, read to the blind, and act as good neighbors in a variety of circumstances. If you would like to know more about FISH, plan to attend the meeting. There will be a period of orientation for new volunteers.

Neil A. Perro

Appointed Superintendent At Tyer

Neil A. Perro of Berwick, Me., has been named Factory Superintendent at Converse Rubber Company's Tyer Division, according to Leo F. Belliveau, Vice President and Factory Manager at the Andover facility.

Perro, who joined Converse in March 1971 as an Industrial Engineer, replaces Russel H. Johnson who has been named General Superintendent of Converse Rubber Company's Carolina Footwear Division, Lumberton, N.C.

Converse Rubber Company manufactures the famous All-star basketball shoe and other athletic, recreational and leisure footwear. It is a subsidiary of Eltra Corporation, a diversified manufacturer of electrical, consumer and industrial products and a supplier of commercial services, with sales close to $6000 million annually.

A native of Granville, Vt., Perro attended high school in Richford, Vt. and then was graduated from Colebrook Academy, Colebrook, N.H. From 1956 to 1959, he attended the University of New Hampshire extension classes and later also studied at the University of Maine. During his work career he has also attended many special professional seminars and has completed a number of special Industrial Management courses.

Prior to joining Converse, Perro was associated with American Cyanamid Corp., Sanford, Me., and Clarostat Mfg. Co., Dover, N.H. Perro is active in the American Institute of Industrial Engineers and has served as Director and Program Chairman of that organization.

He is married to the former Patricia Ann Hunt of North Stratford, N.H. The couple has six children. Perro is active in the Cub Scouts and Little League.

Numerous Species Are Viewed

The Merrimack Valley Bird Club held its second spring bird walk on May 6 at Baker's Meadow in Andover.

Thirty-seven species were seen during the two hour walk. Water birds were the specialties of the morning. The meadow is especially attractive to these birds due to its high water level. A pied-billed grebe, an American Bittern which even gave forth its unusual pumping noise, a pair of Canada Geese with seven four day old young, the vibrant, blue, Belted Kingfisher and a bobbing Spotted Sandpiper were observed.

Many local summer residents had returned to the region including the Baltimore Oriole, the Rose-breasted Grosbeak, the Brown Thrasher, Barn and Tree Swallows, and Chimney Swifts. A migrant warbler the Parula on its way north to the mountains of New Hampshire, Vermont, Maine or Canada was heard singing its buzzy, rizing trill which sounds as though it were going to tie itself in a knot at the top. That year round southern immigrant which lives in a few places around the Merrimack Valley, the mockingbird, was also seen near-by.

The next club walk which is open to all will be on May 15 to Chadwick Pond in North Andover. Everyone is requested to meet at Maggie's Place, Osgood St. on Rt. 125 in North Andover at 6 a.m. The leader of the walk will be A.M. Wilson. He will be assisted by Mrs. Juliet Kellogg, Ronald Valentine and Kenneth Folsom. If anyone has any further questions about the walk, they should call Albert Retelle, of Andover, president of the club.

A Sunday Stroll Of 25 Miles? You Can Count On Connie

(A Townsman Newsfeature)
A vivacious North Andover mother of eight children walked the whole 25 miles of Sunday's March of Dimes Walkathon to earn $858 in pledges she had obtained to prevent and treat birth defects and mental retardation.

Mrs. John Connors, 65 Brightwood Avenue, was muscle sore Monday, after she had joined her children Bunnie, Richard and Debbie in a walkathon of students who had obtained pledges of various amounts for each mile they walked.

Connie Connors decided to join the march, began signing up everyone in sight, including one pledge of $10 a mile, and the Connors marchers walked their way to $1,141 in sponsor pledges for the cause. She's hoping to collect and turn in her pledges in record time, but she was just a bit too stiff to move very fast on Monday morning!

"It's not the feet, as you'd think, but the muscles and tendons in the back of the legs. My hips and legs feel as if I were two different people moving in two directions at the same time! I didn't think I could get up this morning, when I heard my hips clicking every time I moved."

But Mrs. Connors was up on Monday, looking great, even if she didn't feel it, and full of praise for the hundreds of Greater Lawrence kids who made the march.

"These are the teenagers we should be hearing about, instead of the few who are in rumbles and doing damage instead of good. When we'd pass kids sitting on the curb, worn out, and kid them into getting up and walking with us, they were polite and good natured every time. The first ten miles were the worst. After that you stopped caring how far it was to the next checkpoint. It took me 12 hours to finish. I was in the very last group to struggle in, but it was a wonderful exercise, and we met some great people."

March of Dimes officials say that 3,300 walkers took part in this year's Greater Lawrence Walkathon, double last year's number, and 3,000 finished the 25-mile route. They expect pledge collections to approach $50,000 for research and treatment of birth defects.

The Walkathon's "Blister Bus," which cruised the route to pick up tired marchers tried to pick up Mrs. Connors and her last tattered dusty, band of fellow marchers, just two or three miles from the Voke School finish line. The driver said it was so late they ought to ride in. But Connie Connors and her band of fellow marchers weren't going to quit just three miles short, and they finally came in, arms linked, singin,

"Glory, Glory, Hallelujah," to be welcomed by their own cheering section.

Connie had made the whole 25 miles, and some of the people who bet she wouldn't make it will have to pay up — to the March of Dimes.

"I couldn't quit," Mrs. Connors told the TOWNSMAN. "Some of my pledges depended on my finishing the whole course."

There is a special reason why Connors have marched in every Walkathon since older sister Patty Connors marched in the first one three years ago. Mrs. Connors introduced her special reason — six year old Joanne, who was born afflicted with the Downs' Syndrome. But afflicted is hardly the word for Joanne, a happy child who obviously is the love and joy of the Connors household.

John Connors, the father, head of public relations for Western Electric, was in charge of babysitting for Joanne and other younger Connors Sunday, while Connie and the older youngsters walked. Her brothers and sisters had taught Joanne a new word to greet her mother when she came home — "Congratulations!"

Mrs. Connors says that Joanne has been fortunate to be a student since 2½ years at the Burke Hospital, and Joanne accompanies her mother to the weekly meetings of the Girl Scout Troop Connie leads. Mrs. Connors emphasizes the tremendous importance of early schooling in preventing or overcoming educational blocks and handicaps for the mentally retarded child. Joanne hasn't needed special help from the March of Dimes, Connie says, but many children do, and it was for them she was walking.

Sunday's Greater Lawrence March of Dimes Walkathon was the largest in New England, according to Sandy Lucas of the Merrimack Valley Headquarters of the March of Dimes. The 3,300 walkers stepped out to the Scottish marching tunes of the Clan MacPherson, which donated its time to get people off on the right foot. The Emergency Radio Rescue Team, headquartered in Lawrence, did an outstanding job of patrolling the roads; the American Red Cross set up a relief station.

Whole families sometimes marched together, and Andover's Billy Lyons, 9½, was the youngest marcher to make the route.

Among the fastest was Andover West Junior High student Dan Abugov, 14 years old, who ran the route; this first group of runners arrived at 12:30. Dean Hart, 18, and Bill Emmert, 14, were in the second group of runners who arrived at 12:50. Next was the first group of walkers, and three eleven year olds from Andover were in the second group of walkers who were clocked in at 1:45 — Dan McEvoy, Stephen Rogers and Billy Orr.

Dimes on Sunday. Joel and Kelly Trull of River Road set up a lemonade stand to hawk to the passing walkers, and donated $9 in profits to the cause.

As for advice to hikers, here's some from Mrs. Connors, who came to be known as a walking first aid station by limping kids in the Walkathon. "Moleskin on the back of the heel before you start, vaseline on the bottom of your feet and between the toes, and a change of socks."

She knows it works. There wasn't a blister on the eight feet of the four Connors who walked a total of 100 miles for Joanne, and the March of Dimes Sunday.

The Moscow Central Automobile Research Institute has invented a device that cuts off the flow of gas to an engine when a car's speed is suddenly reduced. It cuts off fuel when the car is coasting, braking or idling, and thereby cuts carbon monoxide emissions by 25 to 40 percent, the Massachusetts Audubon Society reports.

BALLERINA. A budding ballerina goes through her routine in preparation for the presentation of "The Seasons" to be presented at East Junior High school, Saturday, June 2.

Ballet Requires Dedication

By Carrie Smotrich

With the coming of Spring, most of Andover's young people are out riding their bicycles or playing baseball.

However, a dedicated group of young devotees of the ballet, are spending their Saturdays and Sundays rehearsing for a presentation of Alexander Glazounov's ballet, "The Seasons." These children are training under the direction of ballet mistress Aina Janson.

At this Sunday's rehearsal of Miss Janson's ballet troupe, I was extremely impressed with the dedication of the young boys' and girls' training in the exacting art of ballet. When we are constantly made aware of the lackadaisical attitude of our youth, this highly disciplined activity must build confidence in some of our young people of Andover.

Speaking with Aina Janson before the four hour rehearsal, she stated that a ballet dancer must have a well built body and lots of will power. Two of her young dancers Lisa Griffin and Michael Langlois, have these qualities.

Lisa Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Griffin who will dance the part of a Swallow, is a nine year old attending the Shawsheen School. Lisa is an excellent fourth grade student who would like to teach ballet some day. Lisa also swims, takes piano lessons and makes stuffed animals as a hobby.

Michael Langlois, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Langlois has studied ballet for three years. I asked him how he got started in ballet and he told me he had heard of football players taking ballet for coordination and balance. Michael wrote letters to Joe Namath and many other athletes and they all recommended ballet. Starting ballet studies in North Carolina to help his athletics, Michael has become interested enough to consider a career in ballet if he is good enough. Michael is an excellent athlete, he plays football, competes in track, is a gymnast and does competitive diving and swimming. Michael is twelve years old and attends East Junior High School where he is an honor role student. Michael commented that even though his friends have expressed great interest in ballet they have found it difficult to convince their parents to allow them to dance. I asked him how it feels to dance with 48 girls and he said, "you get used to it."

Some of the younger ballerinas who will dance in the June performance of "The Seasons" are: Christina Rubio, Carrie

'Kismet' Production Scheduled

An Andover couple co-founders of an Experimental Theatre in Haverhill, will present their fourth major production, "Kismet," May 10, 11 and 12 at Denworth Hall, Bradford College, South Main St., Bradford.

Dr. and Mrs. Glen A. Gulezian, 8 Pioneer Circle, co-founded the group four years ago and are currently working with the young people in the final stages of rehearsal for this popular Broadway musical which features such familiar songs as "Baubles, Bangles and Beads," "Stranger in Paradise," "Night of My Nights," and "This Is My Beloved."

Entitled The Living Presence Experimental Theatre, Dr. and Mrs. Gulezian work with a group of over 40 Greater Haverhill young people of high school and college age. The group also designs and constructs their own sets and scenery, assisted by adult volunteers. A large portion of the costumes are also designed and made by the young people.

Last year the group staged the Broadway show "Kiss Me Kate" and played to over 2,000 people in Denworth Hall.

Dr. Gulezian urges area residents to attend one of the performances. "These young people have worked long and hard since December in preparing the show," he said, "and they need the support of the community."

The Living Presence was co-founded by Dr. and Mrs. Gulezian with a goal to involve young people in positive activities with a Christ-centered atmosphere. Last year the group staged the Broadway production of "Kiss Me Kate" and played to nearly 2,000 people.

Irish Night At Pops Is Scheduled

The Eire Society of Boston is now accepting reservations for its annual Irish Night at The Pops, which this year will be held at Symphony Hall on the evening of Friday, June 1. Traditionally that program is one of the highlights of the Pops season, and Arthur Fiedler's recording of one of his Irish Night performances is among the most popular Boston Pops albums. Now in its 36th year, The Eire Society of Boston was organized and functions for the purpose of spreading awareness of the cultural achievements of the Irish People. It commissioned Leroy Anderson to arrange "The Irish Suite," and that selection is frequently featured on the Irish Night program. Tickets for the performance may be obtained from the chairman of the event, John T. Daley, 344 Weld Street, West Roxbury.

The Dump

Another chapter in the continuing saga of Andover's dump problems is written this week, with tentative findings by the state that the town should cease and desist its sanitary landfill operations by June 1.

Such was anticipated by town officials following three attempts at town meeting to obtain a new site, and the resulting vote of instituting municipal pickup and remove it from town.

The next step, of course, is another delaying tactic, which we expect will be taken by the selectmen and town manager, namely replying to the order issued by the state this week.

This time, the town will affirm to the state that it is taking positive steps to relieve the dump problem.

That positive step is the acceptance of bids on trash collection due a week from today.

But it would appear that even if this reply may placate the state authorities, Andover officials will be just skimming the iceberg of the mounting problem faced by all communities with regard to solid waste disposal.

Word was received this week of a bill currently perambulating the state house procedural folderal which would allow state takeover of solid waste.

This is a matter we hope local legislators will watch closely and act in the interests of local communities. State takeover of such services can only lead to chaos and complete loss of control by local communities as to costs.

Too, Methuen, which objects to being the location of a regional solid waste disposal site, has withdrawn its participation in the regional effort to solving the problem, while still lending an open ear to suggestions for providing an adequate solution.

Even if Andover's proposed pickup service works out well, there still remain problems to be worked out, such as mercantile pickup of refuse, disposal of debris from yard cleanup, etc.

Basic to all this is the pending problem facing Andover.

Should the town continue to use the Chandler Road site in violation of state directives, and be faced with court action and subsequent fines?

That decision appears to be approaching rapidly.

The Program

The Recreation/Community School program initiated in Andover this past year has been moving along in a rather quietly progressive manner.

Gary A. Ralph, the director, appointed about a year ago, reported on the activity of his department and his committees to the selectmen Monday night.

His report was one of progress and apparent success.

Admittedly the director and his assistants have stumbled slightly at times and will continue to do so as the programs are implemented.

The secret to success of the program, however, seems to be meeting people's desires for recreational programs and utilizing town facilities.

In this respect, the new venture has been successful.

Numerous courses and activities were scheduled during the winter and spring months for residents of the community, based on personal desires.

The programs were established through requests which evolved from neighborhood meetings in homes and schools.

An innovative summer program is now being formalized for the playgrounds. Youngsters during their school vacation this year, will be afforded more opportunities to fill their hours usefully during the long summer months.

Putting it bluntly it will be more than sandbox and bubblegum contests this summer. There will be adequate opportunity, for learning or just having fun, under the program planned.

In view of the program being new, its few shortcomings are excusable.

Basically, its aim has been to utilize the town's multi-million dollar real estate holdings, namely the schools, and provide the taxpayers with a program which they themselves design.

To this end, the program has met the criteria and shows signs of continuing success.

Any program which gives the taxpayer a fair return on his investment is certainly worthwhile.

Taxes

It's not official yet, of course, but the inevitable is upon us once again.

The setting of the 1974 tax rate can be expected most any day now, and, as anticipated, the levy will reflect the increased costs of municipal services and the operation of this municipal corporation.

It is expected that Andover's new tax rate will be $54, an increase of $4.

We can only hope that the significant action taken at town meeting this year, investing in utilities to provide a home for a new and substantial industry, will be even more beneficial in the years to come.

To avoid this continuing upward spiral, substantial relief is needed.

From all appearances, it can come to Andover only through a broadening tax base, which opening up of the West Andover Industrial park can provide.

Hopefully there will be sufficient interest to spur other industries to become neighbors of Hewlett-Packard and provide some brakes to the annual contribution to municipal operation costs.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - May, 1898

George Winslow has lately taken up a great taste for yachting which he is indulging in as the occasion offers. Many are waiting for snapshots of him boating around the bend at Silver Lake in New Hampshire.

The trustees of Memorial Hall library have acceded to the request of the Andover Cricket club to allow the Challenge Cup won by the club the past three years to be placed on display. A case is now being prepared for its display.

Hyde Park contractor files suit against town. The firm was second lowest bidder on the sewer project and feels the town acted improperly in awarding the contract to the lowest bidder.

Cooking and laundry lessons will be offered during the summer months at the Andover Guild house. The classes were initiated to accommodate the girls during the vacation period.

A large number of members of the Andover Grange enjoyed the annual outing and picnic held Sunday at the grounds of Canobie Lake in New Hampshire.

A copy of the Shawsheen Schoolhouse bill and the quill with which Governor Cox signed it were presented to the school committee by Rep. Charles E. Abbot.

Negotiations are underway for the transfer of the Dean block on Main street occupied by Frank L. Cole and John H. Soehrens to Paul Gigs who will open the Andover Candy Kitchen.

Monday evening, several local residents travelled to Merrimack Park in Lawrence for the appearance of Rudolph Valentino and his wife Winifred Hudnut Valentino and their dance company which performed to the music of Frank Weldon's Lawrence orchestra.

THE INDY 500? If you remember this typical Sunday afternoon scene in Andover, you can recall when Elm street was a regulated speedway. Auto racing was Sunday afternoon fare back around 1910 when this photo was taken near what is now known as Johnson acres. The photo was supplied by the Andover Historical Society from a collection provided by Cliff Marshall, now of Dennisport. The Society is anxious to receive other old photographs to add to its collection.

Auction To Benefit Gov. Dummer

Talents and services have been lavishly donated to the Governor Dummer Academy Silent Auction scheduled for May 12 in Byfield.

The public is invited to tour the historic Mansion House, home of Headmaster and Mrs. John Ragle, and bid on a great variety of pleasures: a weekend house at Oyster Harbor on Cape Cod, or a mini vacation at the Dunfee Inn of your choice will be a difficult decision. With a combination of bids, you could win a five piece Jazz band or a Rock Group and a butler, cook and barmaid for a swinging Great Gatsby party. Perhaps you would prefer two symphony tickets and dinner at the Budapest Restaurant in Boston. Sports enthusiasts are offered a wealth of choice in bidding: 18 holes at Fernwood and a golf cart, a new aluminum seamless tennis racket, Red Sox tickets, a tuna fishing charter excursion for six, a day of sailing, lessons in swimming, tennis, canoeing, or horseback riding, a pony cart and pony for an afternoon children's party. Antiques and "White Elephants" will be displayed in The Mansion House reception rooms - early prints, books, a set of English china, antique chairs, a chest full of linen, crewel work, and glass. Friends, parents, and neighbors of Governor Dummer Academy have all been busy searching out donations and selling raffle tickets to win a ten speed bicycle, Sterling and enamel bowls, or a set of Bruins tickets. Mrs. James White of Manchester, president of The Governor Dummer Allies, has organized the silent auction, assisted by her area chairwomen: Mrs. Robert L.V. French and Mrs. John C. McClement of Andover. The public is invited on Saturday, May 12 from 10:30 until the final gong at 12:30 to make pencil and paper bids at the silent auction. Refreshments will be available and picnicking welcomed. Following the auction will be Spring Athletic Day.

Students Become Airborne

More than 80 students in ninth grade science classes opted to experience Bernoullian and Newtonian principles of science as they applied to aviation. These students took part in a twenty minute flight aboard single and twin engine Cessna aircraft belonging to Four Star Aviation, Inc., at the Lawrence Municipal Airport.

This was one of many culminating activities planned to reinforce concepts learned as part of a Unit on Fluid Mechanics. Approximately 30 percent of those who took part in the flight were experiencing the sensation of "lift" for the first time. They expressed great delight with the novelty of this learning situation.

Employment Levels Show Increase

Due to seasonal brightening of the business situation, employment levels in Massachusetts decreased from February to March, according to the Bureau of Economic Development. The number of unemployed declined from 187,600 in February to 180,300 (6.7 percent) in March. However, the number of unemployed remained steady at 6.7 percent in both months.

While gains from the month have been small, there has been a slight improvement in the state's employment situation. The number of unemployed increased by more than 100,000 in the last year. The unemployment rate declined from 7.6 percent in February to 6.7 percent in March.

Employment Levels Show Increase

Due to seasonal brightening in the business situation, unemployment levels in Massachusetts decreased from February to March, according to Richard C. Gilliland, Director of the Division of Employment Security. The number of unemployed declined from 187,600 (7.2 percent of the work force) in February to 180,300 (6.8 percent) in March. However, the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate remained steady at 6.7 percent in both months.

While gains from month to month have been measurably small, there has been improvement in the state's economy in the past year. Employment has increased by more than 32,000, enough to absorb the 12-month increment of 9100 in the state work force and to trim unemployment by 24,000. The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate has declined from 7.6 percent to 6.7

percent in the year, comparable to the drop in the adjusted rate for the United States in the same period from 5.9 to 5.0 percent.

Nonagricultural wage and salary employment reached 2,634,000, the highest level for the month in state history during March 1973. Manufacturing accounted for over 40 percent of the jobs added in the past year, with most of this improvement in the durable goods sector, particularly metals, machinery, and electrical machinery and components. Nonmanufacturing employment generally increased in the year, particularly in services and State and local government. Total employment in non-manufacturing industries also reached the highest level for the month yet recorded.

While nonmanufacturing employment has now hit a record level, job rolls in the manufacturing division stand 76,000 below those in March of 1968 despite the gain of 14,400 jobs in the year.

All but one of the eight major metropolitan areas in the Commonwealth reported a lower unemployment rate in March than in February; in Lowell there was a slight rise because the work force increased a little more than the number of jobs available. All of the metropolitan areas but Boston had lower unemployment rates than in March of 1972. Again the cause was a nearly 10,000 increase in the Boston area work force which outpaced the growth of 7,300 in the number of new jobs available in that area.

Asparagus Heads Crops To Market

With the growing season hereabouts some seven to ten days early, fresh asparagus, one of our most popular spring vegetables, is appearing in moderate supply, and should be heavy by the end of the week, reports the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture (MDA). Prices are moderate and beginning to drop as the bulk of the crop comes to market. Native rhubarb is in light to moderate supply, and should be plentiful within the next week or two. Our local growers cut rhubarb well into late spring. The crop is juicy and tender. Spinach and scallions, though fairly scarce at the moment, are appearing from nearby farms, giving a wider choice of fresh vegetables than we've had for many months. Potted plants are appearing in profusion: the usual annuals, pansies, geraniums, petunias, Patricia Anns, violets, and many more. Vegetable bedding plants are coming in, too, though lightly right now: eggplant, lettuce, pepper, tomato, and others. The supply will be heavier within the next week or so, and continue through the month. They may be planted in your garden any time. The peak of the apple blossom season will have been reached about the time you read this, though they may last until the end of the week. They promise a heavier apple crop than last year which was a disastrous one for apples, as well as most other crops though growers won't dare predict crop size and quality for several weeks yet. Most roadside markets and farm stands are open for the season, offering plants and early vegetables. All will be open by Memorial Day, the traditional start of the farm stand business in the Bay State.

Sports Clinic At Pike

Plans were announced today for a three-sport clinic for fathers and sons at The Pike School Saturday morning, May 19. Director of athletics, Robert Stead, indicates that instructional clinics will be held in baseball, lacrosse, and golf with Stead conducting the baseball, lacrosse by Coach Tom Menihan, and Headmaster Raymond Nelson doing the golf.

For the past several seasons Stead has coached the Yarmouth Red Sox of the Cape Cod League. He played varsity college baseball himself. Hitting, offensive strategy, and infield playing will be demonstrated.

Lacrosse as a spring sport has gained considerably in popularity at Pike School and is under the direction of Tom Menihan who played varsity lacrosse at Hobart College as a midfielder and was selected to the NCAA All American Team in 1967. Before coming to Pike, Menihan was coach of varsity soccer and varsity lacrosse at the Peddie School in Hightstown, N.J. Currently he stays active by playing lacrosse for the Brine Lacrosse Club in the Boston area. The lacrosse demonstration will focus on stick skills and basic offensive and defensive techniques utilizing members of the Pike varsity.

The golf clinic, which will be conducted by Raymond Nelson, will explain and demonstrate the fundamentals of the golf swing and technique over a range of clubs from the short irons through the woods. Nelson, who played varsity golf at Williams College, is currently club champion at the North Andover Country Club.

In addition to the clinics, the sports morning will include father-son softball games and a lunch cookout on the Pike campus. The school holds a similar father-son event in the fall with soccer as a feature sport.

Where are they now?

Return with us now to those wondrous days of yesteryear. It's 1949. Automobiles are getting longer, lower and wilder. Massive bumpers are a big hit. Fins are in. And everyone's promising to "keep in style with the times."

But then, times changed. Massive bumpers and fins went out. So did every other car shown above, except the Volkswagen. Why? Well you see, back in '49, when all those other guys were worrying about how to improve the way their cars looked, we were worrying about how to improve the way ours worked. And you know what? 2,200 improvements later, we still worry about the same thing.

Standard International Corporation (NYSE) announced record nine month and third quarter sales and earnings in the fiscal periods ended March 31.

Daniel E. Hogan, president, expressed confidence that the current rate of growth would continue through the balance of this fiscal year, and he stated that a 12% earnings increase in fiscal 1974 is "a reasonable and attainable goal if present trends continue." Mr. Hogan added, "We expect to meet our projections of a minimum of $2.00 per share in earnings on sales of $150 million in the current full fiscal year." Earnings per share in the last fiscal year amounted to $1.39 (restated) on sales of $125 million.

In the latest nine month period, earnings per share rose 51% (before extraordinary gains), amounting to $1.51 per share as compared with $1.00 per share the year before. Income from operations for the period rose 25%. Net income amounted to $4,472,000 (before extraordinary gains), up 13% from the prior year's $3,973,000. Net sales of $112,685,000 represented a 23% increase from last year's $91,533,000. In addition, Standard International realized extraordinary net income of $16,584,000 - or an additional $5.66 per share - in the nine month period.

Mr. Hogan indicated that, while income from operations in the nine months was "exceptionally good," net income after taxes was affected by the sharp decrease in income from non-operating sources, such as dividends, interest and equity earnings associated with Standard's minority interest in the A.

T. Cross Company. Per share earnings for the latest period were based on 2.9 million average shares outstanding, as compared with the prior year's 3.9 million average shares outstanding. The extraordinary gains resulted from the sale of the balance of the company's Squibb Corporation stock and most of its remaining A. T. Cross stock.

In the third fiscal quarter, Standard's earnings amounted to 51¢ per share, an increase of 55% from the 33¢ per share realized in the prior year. Net income from the quarter amounted to $1,460,000 on sales of $39,421,000, as compared to net income of $1,335,000 on sales of $33,114,000 the year before. Income from operations for the quarter increased 11% from the prior year.

Mr. Hogan stated that the "strong earnings performance reflected excellent business throughout the corporation." He expressed confidence that, "with the inherent strength of our major operating units, Standard expects to achieve new records in sales and earnings for the next few years."

Mr. Hogan stated that several acquisitions are now under active negotiation and indicated that they are all related to Standard's current areas of activity. He added that Standard has the financial strength and borrowing capacity "to take advantage of any sound opportunity." Common stockholders' equity amounted to $19.26 per share, compared with $14.35 per share a year ago.

Standard International is a diversified manufacturer operating in four basic growth areas: Consumer products; Food Service and Hospital Equipment; Graphics; and Industrial Products.

Nuclear Power Source Needed

"Both fossil fuel and nuclear generation must have a part in our electric energy supply for New England," said New England Electric President and Chief Executive Officer Guy W. Nichols recently.

"It is my hope that for the next 15-20 years, New England will rely on conventional nuclear facilities for over half of our new base load requirements and fossil units for the balance. The latter is justified in part as a hedge against an unpredictable growth rate," he continued.

Nichols said that certain energy advisors have recently suggested our electric growth rate may range from 5 to 8½ percent. If we grow at the 7½ percent rate, he noted then New England will need another 12,000 megawatts of base load capacity between 1982 and '88. If the growth rate is 5 percent, New England would need only two-thirds of this capacity.

Fossil fuel plants are needed as a hedge, remarked Nichols, partly because their lead time (time required to plan, build and license a new plant) is far less than for a nuclear plant. For fossil fuel plants there is a five to six year lead time while nuclear plants now require 10-12 years' lead time.

Although Nichols foresees the combination of nuclear and fossil fuel generation as the best means of meeting the demand of the next decade or so, he noted that there are problems with both energy supplies.

Coal, although in abundant supply in the western part of the country, has serious environmental problems. "Only 6 percent of the coal now used by U.S. utilities will meet the air quality standards required for new utility construction," he said. "Two-thirds of the huge coal reserves of the western plains states fail to meet these same standards.

"With oil, we are faced with serious national problems - security of supply and balance of payments," continued Nichols. "We are already importing roughly one-third of our oil and by 1985 we expect to be importing over one-half our annual requirements with the dollar outflow expected to reach the $30 billion-a-year mark."

Nichols indicated that two-thirds of the electricity used here in New England is generated with residual oil.

Also, the fees on imported residual oil, proposed by President Nixon in his recent energy message, will have a significant impact if imposed, according to Nichols. The new fee program could cost New Englanders over $200 million per year by 1980.

With regard to nuclear energy, Nichols said, "The increasingly long lead times for nuclear generating plants is rapidly offsetting the low cost of nuclear fuel."

Byrne At Safety Course

Frank J. Byrne of 37 West Parish Drive, Manager, Occupational Safety and Health Programs with Rathen Service Company of Burlington, Mass., recently completed a one week training course, "Recognition, Evaluation, and Control of Occupational Hazards", conducted by the Division of Training, National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) held at Tufts University in Medford. Mr. Byrne was one of a group of approximately fifty engineers, industrial hygienists, and other professionals who studied the fundamental principles of occupational health and the recognition, evaluation, and control of occupational hazards during the course. The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health is a component of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. NIOSH conducts extensive research and manpower development activities designed at eliminating job related health and safety hazards to America's working men and women. The NIOSH Division of Training, based in Cincinnati, Ohio, develops and presents programs to increase the number and competence of persons currently working in the field of occupational safety and health.

As part of the week's celebration, Extension home economists will sponsor a Homemaker's Day Luncheon, May 16 at Kings Grant in Danvers. The event will provide Essex County residents an opportunity to meet their home economists and learn of the educational programs to be offered in 1973-74.

Graduation will be held on June 3 (June 4, rain date) following the Baccalaureate Mass on June 2... This is the last column of the year. I would like to thank the ANDOVER TOWNSMAN for their cooperation in allowing me to include this newsletter in their newspaper... Both faculty and student body at Austin feel that this article has proven successful in informing those local residents with an interest in Austin Prep of the events and activities that take place at the school.

be collected during the week of May 14-18 from a sample of households in this area. The questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. Results of this monthly survey provide a continuing measure of economic conditions in the country. The March survey showed that employment rose sharply to 83.9 million, 7000,000 more than in February. The overall jobless rate was 5.0 percent, not materially different from 5.1 percent in February, but substantially below the 5.9 percent rate of March a year ago. Facts supplied by individuals participating in the survey are kept strictly confidential by law, and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Psychologist Role To Be Explained

The "Role of the School Psychologist in Testing and Counseling," will be the subject of the regular meeting of the Merrimack Valley Association for Children with Learning Disabilities.

The speaker will be Thomas McKenna, who is a psychologist in the Andover school department, and he will approach the subject from an unusual point of view. Not only will Mr. McKenna talk, but he will also demonstrate by having the parents, teachers and friends attending actually participate in a testing program.

This regular meeting of the MVACLD will be held at the Ballardvale United Church, Hall Ave. and Clark Road, Andover, at 8 p.m. on Monday, May 14. Before the talk, there will be a presentation of slides, narrated by "Tennessee Ernie" Ford, "A Walk in Another Pair of Shoes." With this slide presentation those without the problem will get an idea of how it feels to have a learning disability and some of the ways to help those who have the problem.

Tickets will be available for the association's annual dinner-dance, to be held at the Indian Ridge Country Club, on June 9. The dinner will be roast beef and the music will again be by the George Rae band until 1 a.m.

The total number of young men and women 16 to 14 years old attending school in the year ending October 1972 was 14,264,000; of that number, 5.2 million has jobs.

Off The Top Of The Desk

The annual Andover, "junk car," drive in town met with an unexpected response in one area of town.

From an Osgood street resident comes word that "the order of the building inspector has been complied with and the 'junk car,' has been put in service again and removed from the premises, although, a part of the operation involved a car theft. The theft was of my daughter's car which has not yet been recovered."

Apparently state health authorities have not just recently become cognizant of dump problems, as evidenced by an item in the North Andover news of 25 years ago.

Seems the state ordered a small dumping area off Salem street closed down due to its proximity to a small brook which was a tributary leading to Lake Cochichewick.

Andover's current dump problems center on its location on the Fish Brook watershed which feeds Haggetts pond, thus a similar problem.

That was one rollicking birthday party put on by Bon Secours hospital this week as part of the observance of National Hospital week.

All youngsters born during a previous year at the Bon are invited back for a birthday party, with a good majority accepting the invitation.

It all makes for an enjoyable, if not somewhat chaotic affair.

Just a reminder. Next Tuesday, May 15 is the final day to have the family car inspected.

All vehicles must have the spring sticker affixed by that date or be off the road.

Salt water fishermen, please help. If you catch a flounder with a Raytheon tag on it in the Lynn Harbor area (or elsewhere), please return tag and collect a $1.00 reward. Johns; or Lynnway Marine, 180 The Lynnway, Lynn, Ma. 01901; or National Marine Fisheries Service, Woods Hole, Ma. 02543, c/o R. Schultz. Please include your name, address, tag no., capture date, depth, location, method and type gear used, length of fish, total flounder caught, and, if possible, weight and sex. Your information will aid a study of flounders' migratory habits.

From the Unitarian-Universalist church bulletin comes this bid of federal bureaucracy:

Playing the Game: A builder in the nations capital sought FHA funds to include a decorative fountain in his apartment development. The FHA refused on the grounds that such embellishments were unnecessary. The builder bided his time, and two months later requested funds for a reverse gravity water distribution system. FHA okayed that and the fountain is now spouting water.
